5.3. Real Estate AS Clean-up (approved by the Committee on January 24, 2024):

1. Removed the following statement from the catalog description. Note: This statement was used on many CTE degrees to help distinguish the difference between a CTE degree and certificate that had the same requirements. This statement is no longer recommended:
 - "To become a well-rounded person capable of fully participating in society and the modern economy, the student will need a strong foundation in the major areas of human study and endeavor. The Real Estate A.S. degree also includes coursework in General Education. Entry-level courses in General Education (arts and humanities, mathematics and natural sciences, and the social sciences) can help you gain a greater understanding of and appreciation for the world and its people. These general education courses will enhance communication skills, improve critical thinking skills, and help with a professional career in the Real Estate industry. A degree is not, however, required for licensure. Students may pursue either a certificate or a degree to satisfy the Department of Real Estate course guidelines."
