Finding your email's home

Have you ever had to do a search on Outlook to find an email because you forgot in which of your many folder you filed it? Once you searched and found it you probably still wanted to know in which folder it was housed. The solution is simple.

While your email is selected click on CTRL+Shift+F.

* $			Advanced Find		_
Loo k N	/lessages		~ In:	2019 Flex Booklet		B rowse
Messages	More Choice	Advanced				Find N ow
Sear c h for the word(s):				\sim	Sto p
	I n:	subject field o	only		~	New S earch
F r om
Sei	nt T o
W here	e I am:	the only perso	on on the To line		\sim	Q
	Ti m e:	none	✓ Anytime		\sim

You'll instantly see the name of the folder.