FACULTY/STUDENT ENGAGEMENT in the Classroom

Do you want your students to pay more attention in class? Ask more (and better) questions? Complete more assignments? Utilize more support services? All of these behaviors are directly connected to student engagement. Student engagement is strongly influenced by the environment the faculty member creates in the classroom. Come join us for a discussion and exploration of ideas, tips, and practices for improving student engagement in the classroom.

Leona Fisher
Thierry Brusselle