THE BRAIN: A Pattern-Making Machine

In this workshop, we will discuss the pattern-making machine that is the brain. We will talk about how and why the brain makes patterns and how this can be beneficial in many circumstances but can have some drawbacks when it comes to teaching and learning. Excerpts from Michael Shermer's "The Believing Brain" and Neil Postman's works will be included in this discussion, and we will think collaboratively about how this applies to our various disciplines, specifically.

FACILITATOR

Daniel Keener

ATL - 110
MONDAY
November 2
12:30 PM – 1:30 PM
Snacks provided

BOGO – Bring One, Get One
If you bring another faculty member who has not attended an FSC workshop in the past two years, then both of you will receive a raffle ticket. Raffle tickets will be drawn at the end of the semester for a prize.