If any of these questions interest you, you may want to join the Accelerated Learning Faculty Inquiry Team. For far too long, California has suffered from trying to address the deficits of students. The deficit model has created a course structure that stifles creative solutions to learning. This FIT opportunity encourages instructors to take back control of creativity and problem-solving through an inquiry-based collaborative effort of 15 instructors over the course of next year (Fall 2011-Spring 2012). Each participant would be paid $1,000 upon completion of the FIT project, which will meet regularly both fall and spring semesters. Participants would be expected to participate in each FIT meeting/activity.
