Expanding Perspectives and Developing Creative Solutions

Do you want to expand your students’ creative and critical thinking skills? Do you want to expand your own thinking about how to approach instruction in creative ways?

Then join us as we explore methods that engage creating thinking across disciplines in surprising ways. We’ll use the Student Invitational 2015 as a learning lab to explore the possibilities in this hands-on workshop. Get ready to use your creativity and work with your faculty colleagues in unexpected ways.
