Halloween at Chaffey

Ghouls and Goblins were out in full swing for the 2015 Halloween Costume Party held on Thursday, October 29th, sponsored by the Classified Senate and the Chaffey College Bookstore. Classified Senate President Trisha Albertsen emceed the event where students and staff competed for best costume. As always, a ghostly good time was had by all in attendance! This year we held the costume party at all three campuses!
Chaffey Hosts 4CS Southeast 3

On October 16, 2015, Southeast 3 Area held a meeting of the colleges under 4CS area representative Trisha Albertsen. Chaffey College hosted and provided refreshments. All colleges in the Southeast 3 area were invited and three (3) colleges attended the meeting. During the meeting, there was a discussion on the following topics: Meeting quorums, senator participation, senate events and fundraising, campus challenges, and many different 4CS resources.

The colleges in attendance were Chaffey College, Crafton Hills, and Mt. San Jacinto College. 4CS South Vice President Karen Martin attended and provided valuable information to all attendees. Classified Professionals in attendance were: Eva Aceves, Alma Alvarez, Belen Kirejian, Tim Lampley, Elizabeth Mascaro, and Diane Morales of Mt. San Jacinto College; Lissa Napoli, Corrie Verhagen, and Donna Walker of Chaffey College; and Mary Bender, and Cyndi Gundersen of Crafton Hills College.
The Chaffey College Foundation in coordination with the Vice President of Student Affairs was honored to welcome award winning ESPN reporter Shelley Smith to the Rancho Cucamonga Campus on Friday, October 23rd for the college’s annual Breast Cancer Awareness event. Shelley Smith is a four-time Emmy-winning reporter for ESPN and former writer-reporter at Sports Illustrated.

In May 2014, Smith was diagnosed with breast cancer and underwent treatment, which ended June 2015. A recent mammogram showed no evidence of disease, and she is considered cancer free. Smith continues to help spread the importance of early detection in breast and other kinds of cancers and has consulted with numerous charities, including the V Foundation, the American Cancer Society and the National Breast Cancer Foundation. Smith shared her inspirational story of breast cancer survival in an intimate setting in the college’s Sports Center.

This event would not have been made possible without the efforts of Chaffey College Classified Senate member, Justin Caudill. Justin Tweeted Shelley and to his surprise received an immediate response from her with a promise to come out and support this event. Justin became a breast cancer awareness advocate when cancer struck his own family. His mother was diagnosed in 2004, fought the battle and now is a survivor. “Thank y'all for supporting this cause and fundraising efforts I personally brought to Chaffey a few years ago with the support of my Dean Dr. Eric Bishop. I can't thank our amazing Governing Board, administration, and of course the Executive Director of the Foundation, Lisa Nashua, and her amazing team: Marie, Lissa, Sharon, and Janeth. I'm so blessed to work with amazing people.”

In addition to hosting Ms. Smith’s visit, the Chaffey College Foundation collected donations towards the purchase of personalized luminary bags that formed the breast cancer awareness ribbon just outside the college’s Sports Center.

The Chaffey College Panthers (Athletics) have a long history of supporting breast cancer awareness through fundraisers, game dedications, and the wearing of pink uniforms and emblems during the month of October. This year’s event featuring Shelley Smith showcases the college’s ongoing commitment to cancer awareness and fundraising.

Proceeds from the night’s fundraiser will be donated to the Susan G. Komen Foundation to fund mammograms for local residents.

We raised over $2,600 from this event!!
