From Don Nickel, “College Units and Time Management”

Scheduling Your Time for College Success

“This is just an approximation but a good reference point to start with.”

one unit of credit = one hour of in-class time a week for each hour in class a week = two hours of out-of-class time

Three units of college credit = three hours of time in class each week

Three units of college credit = six hours of time outside-of-class each week

Three in-class hours + at least six out-of-class hours = nine or more hours of your time each week dedicated to the course

STUDENT CONTACT INFORMATION

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT OF MATURE CONTENT
We will be reading The Circle this semester. This book features some mature language and content including descriptions of intimate situations between characters. (The Circle addresses themes such as privacy, transparency, and the effects of technology.) This book and other course selections may feature subjects, language, and events deemed offensive by some students. If any course language or subject matter is or may become problematic to you in a way that possibly interferes with your course experience, please contact me, so we may address your concerns.

Creating, Promoting, and Maintaining A Successful Classroom Learning Environment

Please be sure you make it a priority to be on time to class, come ready to work, respect your classmates and professor, stay for the entire class session, and be present in the learning environment.

Attending all class meetings is mandatory because consistent, active participation leads to success. You are responsible for information discussed in each course session as well as the information provided through homework videos, readings, and activities. At the beginning of each class meeting, homework assignments are due, and during each class session, students earn points for completing in-class reading, writing, and critical thinking activities. Complete all of the homework assignments before coming to class and be prepared to answer questions and discuss the material.

Disruptions such as private conversations, texting in class, doing homework for other classes, etc. will not be tolerated. Any behavior which upsets the teaching/learning atmosphere of the class is not acceptable, and students who engage in such behavior will be required to leave class.

“Absent from class” refers to situations where a student misses scheduled class time (including missing a class session, leaving early, and/or arriving late) for any reason; there are no “excused” absences.

If you miss class time, you will not earn points for missed class activities. This policy both mirrors common employment practices and promotes the consistent success of a community of scholars.

If you stop attending and do not officially drop the course, you will fail the course, so if dropping becomes necessary, please remember to do so by the required drop deadline.

Please contact me if you have concerns about your course progress, so we may discuss strategies to help you address these concerns.

Disclaimer: The best way to grow as a writer is to read other writers’ work, so I may share your writing as a model/sample in this and/or other English classes. This is a great way for you to contribute to the growth and learning of your peers here at Chaffey College. (Please chat with me if you have concerns.)
Plagiarism Policy

In this class, you will receive zero points for any plagiarized final work; this may result in failure of the course. If you are unsure if you are plagiarizing or have questions about using sources, please ask. Chaffey's policy on plagiarism is as follows:

“Violations of the Student Academic Integrity Code, including plagiarism, will not be tolerated in Chaffey College English courses. Plagiarism is defined as the misrepresentation of the published ideas or words of another as one’s own. At the discretion of the professor, plagiarism or other violations may result in zero points for the assignment and/or failing the course. Additionally, the professor may file a Student Academic Integrity Form documenting the violation and may seek other sanctions. The complete Student Academic Integrity Code appears in the Chaffey College Student Handbook” (from the English Department Guidelines).

Late Work and No Questions Asked Coupons

When all students come to class prepared, our learning community benefits.

Supplemental Learning Assignments: Not Accepted Late

Supplemental Learning assignments must be stamped and dated by the appropriate deadlines to earn points; late and incomplete supplemental learning assignments do not earn points. Therefore, anticipate the possibility of a time management concern and avoid waiting until right before the assignment is due to complete the Success Center process. Supplemental Learning assignments completed without Success Center stamps do not earn points.

No Questions Asked Coupons: Using “No Questions Asked” coupons, each student is permitted to turn in a total of up to two late reading responses, one late peer review (with a Success Center tutorial), and one late final essay draft without penalty. The coupon page is part of the fourth section of this syllabus; read each coupon carefully for specific conditions and instructions. Students are strongly encouraged to save the attached “No Questions Asked” coupons for emergencies. Other late final essay drafts earn up to half credit. No other late work (peer drafts, homework, Supplemental learning activities, or other late work of any kind) earns points.

Students must attend and participate in the entire peer review session (as well as bring four copies of the rough draft to class) in order to earn points for peer review drafts.
Part Four of the syllabus includes one set of three “No Questions Asked” Coupons.

Each student may only use one set of three “No Questions Asked” coupons this semester.

NOTES:
NO QUESTIONS ASKED COUPONS
