Achievements & Community Contributions by Classified Professionals

Courtney Garcia, Program Assistant, Disability Programs & Services

Since 2020, Courtney has been leading the DPS department's implementation of a new informational management software called Symplicity Accommodate. This software will create closer communication between our students, staff, faculty, and counselors, and will equip our students with DPS resources, opportunities, and points of connection through their personal accommodate portals. I am currently configuring with our team to best suit our students' needs. Over the last month, I've led the training of DPS staff in the new system with the goal of creating a team of "Super-Users" that will be ready to support our students and faculty from day one of launch. Our department is excited for the innovation Accommodate will bring, and I'm looking forward to leading the training of our counseling faculty starting later this month.

Trisha Albertsen, Accountant & Classified Senate President – Budgeting & Fiscal Services

Trisha participated in the Drive-Thru Grad Fest on Wednesday, April 14th by handing out grad bags with contained cap and gown and other graduate items. This event celebrated our students who will be participating in the virtual commencement ceremony.
