6. GUEST(S)/PRESENTATION(S)

6.2 Open Educational Resources (OER) and Zero Textbook Cost (ZTC) Updates presented by ZTC Facilitator Emilie Koenig, English, and Administrator, Instructional Systems and Pathway Innovations, Bradley Franklin. *15 minute presentation and up to 10 minute discussion

Updates:

- Full general education ZTC pathway is complete and there is continuous work on developing full ZTC degree pathways
- ZTC OER training course, which is a paid opportunity for full and part-time faculty, is still being offered every single month.
- Resource Shelf will make STEM materials available to students, with a model similar to Panther Pantry
- Legislative updates include a mandate for "Burden Free Access" under Title V
 - Expands access of free and low cost textbook and instructional materials
- ZTC adoption across campus hit a record high of 59.3%
 - Senator Jenkins inquired whether the 59.3% included only full ZTC or LTC courses. It only includes full ZTC. She also asked what the college's position is on low cost instructor written textbooks. Emily discussed that there are some faculty writing open access textbooks, which is supported by legislation. For profit textbooks have not been included in ZTC course count. Chaffey's low cost threshold of $50 is the highest in the state (most fall in the $5-$10 range)
- AP 2710, 3710, 3715 can give an idea on the district's position on instructor written materials.
- Senator Clark-Frize asked whether books purchased previously through grant funding fall under ZTC.
 There is a ZTC designation that would allow faculty to list purchased materials that do not pass cost to students.
- Senator Shelton inquired what would happen to the program once funding stops if McKenzie Scott money is not awarded. Currently, there would be no other clear source of funding to continue to support this initiative.
- Senator Bratcher asked what the impetus for the state was and whether there would be an opportunity for continuous state support. As per the state, the project was funded and completed. The money allotted to it has been spent, and the funding source is not in perpetuity.
- Senator Whitney requested clarification on upcoming counselor ZTC planning tools. Bradley explained that this would allow counselors to quickly identify ZTC pathway options, making it easier to provide that information to students.
- Senator Lee asked whether the course catalog would show individual ZTC sections and whether the ZTC push would limit academic freedom. Faculty would retain academic freedom in choosing course materials, and students would have the opportunity to choose courses and pathways that align with their needs. Specific course sections would show ZTC designation.

- 6.1 LGBTQIA+ Research Updates presented by Dr. Alison Cerezo. *20 minute presentation and up to 10 minute discussion. (Time extension granted by President Encarnacion to accommodate extensive research findings.)
 - Senator Bratcher asked whether the canvas resource presented would be connected to Chaffey Cares
- Senator Jenkins shared that LGBTQIA+ taskforce members could work with the FSC to create asynchronous training or FLEX presentations.
- President Encarnacion mentioned that non-faculty staff do not usually have access to canvas. She also asked whether there were connections made between the resources in canvas and existing Library resources of libguides.
- Senator Jenkins asked how to get access to the canvas shell. The canvas shell is currently not live yet.

XB-12 Data Reporting: A Review

- XB-12 requires faculty to report their course materials usage
- Faculty self-report their course materials category as part of their course assignment survey
- Accurate reporting/selection is super important for both students and the institution
- There is an infographic to help! ☺

REPORTING COURSE MATERIALS

Traditional Textbook (TRAD)

Total cost of all required course materials/textbooks is above $50.

"Course materials" refers to the textbook, lab book, software and/or homework system needed to participate in the course.

Low Cost Textbook (LCT)

Total cost of all required course materials/textbooks is $50 or less.

"Course materials" refers to the textbook, lab book, software and/or homework system needed to participate in the course.

Other TTP & ZTC Campus Updates

- The ZTC/OER Training Course is still being offered monthly as a PAID opportunity for full and part-time faculty. (Over 93 faculty have participated over the last year!)
- Working through the ZTC/OER
 Committee on The Resource Shelf- with a STEM course materials drive coming later this Fall!
- As of Fall '25, ZTC adoption across the college is now 59.3%!

ASCCC OERI & Legislative Updates

- Resolution & AP regarding Burden Free Access
 - Authority of Title 5, Section 54221
 - Meeting the California Community Colleges' mandate to expand free and low-cost textbook and instructional material access.

Definitions

- Instructional Materials: Defined as any materials required for course participation, including textbooks, software, online platforms, and ancillary resources.
- Burden-Free Access: Defined as students' ability to access required instructional materials without financial, administrative, or psychological barriers by the first day of class.

Policy Requirements

- Ensure access to all required and supplemental materials by the first day of class.
- Prioritize use of zero-cost and open educational resources (OER) whenever feasible
- Promote and facilitate sustainable zero-textbook-cost degree pathways and certificates.

"Burden Free Access" Implications

- "Malicious Compliance"
 - Publisher fees being roped into/hidden within student fees before the start of the semester
 - Publisher subscription packages
 - Publisher "taught" courses as a barrier to ZTC
- Burden Free Access & OER Materials ASCCC Memo (9/30/25)
 - "Empowering Day One Access through OER"
- Chaffey's Local Plan: Chaffey College's plan is to wait for official framework language from the Community Colleges League of California before drafting local policy revisions. This is anticipated to occur around January.
- ASCCC OERI Burden Free Access Policy Webinar (11/7 @ 9:00-10:00am)
 - "From Mandate to Implementation: Navigating Burden-Free Access to Instructional Materials Policy Development"

ASCCC OERI & Legislative Updates

- Current statewide ZTC funding is coming to an end.
 - Cohort 5, Cohort 5.5, and all current OER writing projects are included within existing grant.
- Other funding sources need to be identified and secured to continue supporting the Textbook Transformation Project (and faculty through TTP) into the future.
 - MacKenzie Scott grant application is currently in development with 16 new ZTC degree and certificate pathways identified.

A Preview of Coming Attractions

- ■ Currently in Development:
 - Improved ZTC data accuracy and availability
 - ZTC dashboards
 - Student facing ZTC course/section search tools
 - Counselor ZTC planning and pathway tools
