Chancellor's Office Role

- Continue reviewing curriculum that is not part of the streamlining.
 - Cooperative Work Experience
 - Certificates of Achievement
 - AS/AA Degree
 - ADTs
 - Noncredit courses and programs
- Periodic Review (spot checking)
- Provide technical assistance and training.
- Intersegmental Programs & Credit Curriculum staff are assigned to specific colleges, so the colleges can be served holistically and have one point of contact.

Curriculum Streamlining Myths

- Curriculum no longer needs to be submitted to the Chancellor's Office.
- No. All curriculum needs to be submitted to the Chancellor's Office with the exception of low unit certificates that only require local approval.
- Curriculum will instantly be approved.
- No. It will be quicker, but not instant because it still needs to process through the Curriculum Inventory system for a control number. (It also depends on the local curriculum process.)
- Anyone on the campus can develop curriculum.
- No. This is in the purview of faculty.
- The queue has thousands of proposals and the Chancellor's Office takes years to review and process proposals.
- No. In the past nine months, the Chancellor's Office has made significant changes and progress with their review of proposals. There is currently no proposals that are older than 2 months.
