Accreditation at a Glance

Chaffey College is in the process of preparing for its regularly scheduled Accreditation visit through the Accrediting Commission for Community and Junior Colleges (ACCJC). The Commission is one of seven regional accrediting commissions and receives its authority through the US Department of Education through the Higher Education Opportunity Act of 2008.

Accreditation is a peer review process in which colleges are asked to evaluate themselves through a “Self-Study” and then a team of peers from other colleges visit the college to verify and the Accreditation Standards and Eligibility Requirements that the college is expected to meet. The Accreditation Standards recently changed, and this will be Chaffey’s first review with the new Standards.

If you want to learn more about the Accreditation Standards or the Eligibility Standards, you can paste the following link in your browser for more information:

What is Chaffey Doing to Get Ready?

Chaffey’s Accreditation Oversight Committee has been meeting since 2012 to ready the College for this important process, though those efforts have kicked into high gear since last spring. To this point, the group has been working on preliminary outlines and narratives for the Self-Study. That effort will result in an initial draft that will be reviewed by November with the goal of completion by late spring. The Accreditation Self-Study is a huge effort because it calls for the good work that the college does and the ways that plans are made for future improvements and directions. The group is also working on survey information and education efforts to help the campus community become familiar with the basics of the Accreditation Standards.

You will be able to see a draft of the Self-Study soon and provide your valuable input.

In addition to those activities, the college is also planning a “mock” visit in April of 2016. The college will assemble a small group of peers to review the Self-Study and come to the college to ask questions, much like a visiting team will do. This activity will give the college valuable feedback and also prepare the campus for the experience. So here is a timeline of activity for your future reference.

- Fall 2015: Draft Self-Study
- Spring 2016: Mock Visit
- Summer 2016: Finalize Self-Study
- Fall 2016: Accreditation Visit

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Demonstrating the Value of Chaffey College

AUGUST 2014  ANALYSIS OF THE ECONOMIC IMPACT & RETURN ON INVESTMENT OF EDUCATION

Chaffey College (Chaffey) creates value in many ways. The college plays a key role in helping students increase their employability and achieve their individual potential. It provides students with the skills they need to have a fulfilling and prosperous career. Further, it supplies an environment for students to meet new people, increase their self-confidence, and promote their overall health and well-being.

However, the contribution of Chaffey consists of more than just influencing the lives of students. The college serves a range of industries in the Chaffey Community College District and supports local businesses. Society as a whole in California benefits from an expanded economy and improved quality of life. The benefits created by Chaffey extend as far as the state and local government, in the form of increased tax revenues and public sector savings.

The purpose of this study is to investigate the regional economic impacts created by Chaffey on the local business community and the benefits that the college generates in return for the investments made by its key stakeholder groups—students, society, and taxpayers. The following two analyses are presented:

- REGIONAL ECONOMIC IMPACT ANALYSIS
- INVESTMENT ANALYSIS

All results reflect student and financial data for Fiscal Year (FY) 2012-13. Impacts on the local business community are reported under the regional economic impact analysis, and the return on investment to students, society, and taxpayers are reported under the investment analysis. Both analyses are described more fully in the following sections.
